

別紙 1

Korean Society of Animal Reproduction

(韓國動物繁殖學會)

Purposes and Fields of Researches

June 22, 2005

To contribute in promoting academic researches and our understandings in the fields of animal reproduction, developing its related technologies and exchanging them. To this end, the society holds academic meetings, publishes research results and other materials, and executes international cooperation for advancing academic researches.

Statistics of KSAR Members

Regular members: 369

Student members: 142

Agency members: 75

Library members: 4

Total: 634

Executive Members

Board members: Advisory Committee (13)

President (1)

Vice-presidents (3)

Other committee members (54)

Officers (127)

A Brief History of KSAR

1975 Opening KSAR Meeting

1979 MOU, Korea-Japan Joint Association of Animal Reproduction & AI (Korean J Anim Reprod vol(1) published)

1983 International Symposium on Improvement of the Efficiencies of Animal Reproduction (Drs Tsunoda, Howorth, Willadson invited)

1986 Registered in the Korean Federation of Sciences & Technology Societies (KFSTS)

1987-1990s International Symposia at every Meeting

2001 First Joint Developmental Biotechnology Meeting of KSAR, Korean Society of Developmental Biology (KSDB) and Korean Society of Embryo Transfer (KSET)

2002 Opening Homepage of KSAR, Second Developmental Biotechnology Meeting of KSAR, KSDB and KSET

2003 Third Developmental Biotechnology Meeting of KSAR, KSDB and KSET

2004 Fourth Developmental Biotechnology Meeting of KSAR, KSDB and KSET. Launched a new format of the society journal, Reproductive & Developmental Biology (RDB) vol (28)

2005 Spring Meeting (9 invited lectures and 106 abstracts). Opening 2nd Generation of Homepage of KSAR

2005 October, Annual Meeting to be held in KunKook University & Fifth Developmental Biotechnology Meeting of KSAR, KSDB and KSET